"On first picking up a camera, you might think that it is for photographing things. However, in the purest sense, light is the substance captured by a camera. In this stunning gallery of photographs taken across the United Kingdom, landscape photographer Fran Halsall explores the elements that make up a great picture."

"This is a book that approaches not only technicalities but also ways of seeing, making it an invaluable and accessible guide for anyone who wishes to take landscape photographs or who is interested in the mysterious distinction between a decent image and an amazing one." "Halsall's clearly articulated commentaries on her own photographs, divided into three sections - 'Light', 'Form' and 'Time' - reveal her sensitivity to nature, attention to detail, boundless patience and intelligent analysis." --Book Jacket.

In the first millennium BC, communities in Italy underwent crucial transformations which scholars have often subsumed under the heading of ‘state formation’, namely increased social stratification, the centralization of political power and, in some cases, urbanisation. Most research has tended to approach the phenomenon of state formation and social change in relation to specific territorial dynamics of growth and expansion, changing modes of exploitation of food and other resources over time, and the adoption of selected socio-ritual practices by the ruling élites in order to construct and negotiate authority. In contrast, comparatively little attention has been paid to the question of how these key developments resonated across the broader social transect, and how social groups other than ruling élites both promoted these changes and experienced their effects. The chief aim of this collection of 14 papers is to harness innovative approaches to the exceptionally rich mortuary evidence of first millennium BC Italy, in order to investigate the roles and identities of social actors who either struggled for power and social recognition, or were manipulated and exploited by superior authorities in a phase of tumultuous socio-political change throughout the entire Mediterranean basin. Contributors provide a diverse range of approaches in order to examine how power operated in society, how it was exercised and resisted, and how this can be studied through mortuary evidence. Section 1 addresses the construction of identity by focusing mainly on the manipulation of age, ethnic and gender categories in society in regions and sites that reached notable power and splendor in first millennium BC Italy. These include Etruria, Latium, Campania and the rich settlement of Verucchio, in Emilia Romagna. Each paper in Section 2 offers a counterpoint to a contribution in Section 1 with an overall emphasis on scholarly multivocality, and the multiplicity of the theoretical approaches that can be used to read the archaeological evidence.

Millennium Trilogy

This volume reflects the different methods and new approaches to the study of Byzantine history that have characterized the work of Paul Speck, to whom it is dedicated, and above all, his insistence on a close reading and careful interpretation of the sources. These aims are encapsulated in the introduction by John Haldon, which gives a sense of where future studies should lead new generations of scholars. The following studies, by many of the leading authorities in their fields, look at a whole range of aspects of the history of Byzantium - its culture, theology, linguistics, literature, historiography, sigillography and art - and at the place of the Byzantine empire within the late antique and medieval worlds.

This volume is divided into three sections, which correspond to the Conference's Working Group I on "Privatisation and New Business Strategies", Working Group IV on the "The Social Dimension" and Working Group V on the "Steel Industry in the European Union". This volume brings together papers by a world-wide selection of academics, leading steel executives, trade unionists and directors of international organisations. It focuses on the institutional changes that have affected the industry, comparing patterns of privatisation in different countries and analysing steel companies' global business strategies, the effects of restructuring on industrial relations, the changing impact of the EU and the evolution in the global regulatory environment of the steel industry.

Artists, art historians, and critics look at the legacies of feminism and critical theory in the work of women artists, more than thirty years after the beginning of the modern women's movement and Linda Nochlin's landmark essay "Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists?" More than thirty years after the birth of the modern women's movement and the beginnings of feminist art-making and art history, the time is ripe to examine the legacies of those revolutions. In Women Artists at the Millennium, artists, art historians, and critics examine the differences that feminist art practice and critical theory have made in late twentieth-century art and the discourses surrounding it. In 1971, when Linda Nochlin published her essay "Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists?" in a special issue of Art News, there were no women's studies, no feminist theory, no such thing as feminist art criticism; there was instead a focus on the mythic figure of the great (male) artist through history. Since then, the "woman artist" has not simply been assimilated into the canon of "greatness" but has expanded art-making into a multiplicity of practices with new parameters and perspectives. In Women Artists at the Millennium artists including Martha Rosler and Yvonne Rainer reflect upon their own varied practices and art historians discuss the innovative work of such figures as Louise Bourgeois, Lygia Clark, Mona Hatoum, and Carrie Mae Weems. And Linda Nochlin considers changes since her landmark essay and looks to the future, writing, "We will need all our wit and courage to make sure that women's voices are heard, their work seen and written about." Per la prima volta in un unico ebook i titoli della trilogia che ha stregato i lettori di tutto il mondo e ha fatto innamorare la critica mondiale: 1) UOMINI CHE ODIANO LE DONNE 2) LA RAGAZZA CHE GIOCAVA CON IL FUOCO 3) LA REGINA DEI CASTELLI DI CARTA UOMINI CHE ODIANO LE DONNE. Da molti anni, la nipote prediletta del potente industriale Henrik Vanger è scomparsa senza lasciare traccia. Il cadavere non è mai stato ritrovato. Quando, ormai vecchio, Vanger riceve un dono che riapre la vicenda, incarica Mikael Blomkvist, noto giornalista investigativo, di ricostruire gli avvenimenti e cercare la verità. Aiutato da un’abilissima giovane hacker, Blomkvist indaga a fondo la storia della famiglia Vanger, ma più scava, più le scoperte sono spaventose. LA RAGAZZA CHE GIOCAVA CON IL FUOCO. Mikael Blomkvist è tornato vittorioso alla guida di Millennium, pronto a lanciare un numero speciale su un vasto traffico di prostituzione dai paesi dell’Est. L’inchiesta si preannuncia esplosiva: la denuncia riguarda un intero sistema di violenze e soprusi, e non risparmia poliziotti, giudici e politici, perfino esponenti dei servizi segreti. Ma poco prima di andare in stampa, un triplice omicidio fa sospendere la pubblicazione, mentre si scatena una vera e propria caccia all'uomo: l’attenzione di polizia e media nazionali si concentra su Lisbeth Salander, la giovane hacker, «così impeccabilmente competente e al tempo stesso così socialmente irrecuperabile», ora principale sospettata. Blomkvist, incurante di quanto tutti sembrano credere, dà il via a un’indagine per accertare le responsabilità di Lisbeth, «la donna che odia gli uomini che odiano le donne». LA REGINA DEI CASTELLI DI CARTA. La giovane hacker Lisbeth Salander è di nuovo immobilizzata in un letto d’ospedale, anche se questa volta non sono le cinghie di cuoio a trattenerla, ma una pallottola in testa.È una minaccia: se qualcuno scava nella sua vita e ascolta quello che ha da dire, potenti organismi segreti crolleranno come castelli di carta. Deve sparire per sempre, meglio se rinchiusa in un manicomio. La cospirazione di cui si trova suo malgrado al centro, iniziata quando aveva solo dodici anni, continua. Intanto, il giornalista Mikael Blomkvist è riuscito ad avvicinarsi alla verità sul terribile passato di Lisbeth ed è deciso a pubblicare su Millennium un articolo di denuncia che farà tremare i servizi di sicurezza, il governo e l’intero paese. Non ci saranno compromessi.
